2016-05-30

- new contract for three years
- long-term partnership
- building and installation of indoor and outdoor lightning systems

Since the beginning of this year, the Hungarian team of Voith Industrial Services has been carrying out a new electrical installation contract for AUDI HUNGARIA MOTOR Kft. in Győr. The contract initially runs for three years and will then be extended for two more years. It includes the electrical implementation of power supply for production and equipment out by approximately 30 employees.

For example, the industrial service provider builds and installs lighting systems indoor on the shop floor and outdoor on the plant's premises as well as data networks, electrical control cabinets and air conditioning systems.

Since the employees of Voith Industrial Services have been constantly present at the Audi site Győr from the very first day, due to different kinds of contracts, they know the customer's standards and expectations. Still, it is a permanent challenge for the team to continuously adapt their activities to the work and processes of the customer.

"We constantly strive to further improve our performance. Thanks to our experienced and skilled local team, the customer receives the quality of work which he expects – at a reasonable price-performance ratio. At the same time, we are very much pleased about the long-term collaboration and great partnership with our local customer as well as the good working conditions for our employees", says Szeiber Zsolt, manager electrical installations at Voith Industrial Services.
